

We value our partners. Bristream's sales model is 100% partner focused.

Enterprise customers are concerned about data privacy and compliance for email, remote access and web applications in their IT environments. Emerging threats are represented by both internal breaches as well as a rapidly growing mobile market. If you are a networking or security solutions provider, where data privacy is an integral part of your solution - or should be an integral part - consider adding the Bristream solution to your current offering. Bristream's products are an essential piece of a complete defense in depth strategy offering a secure, scalable and simple solution for data privacy.

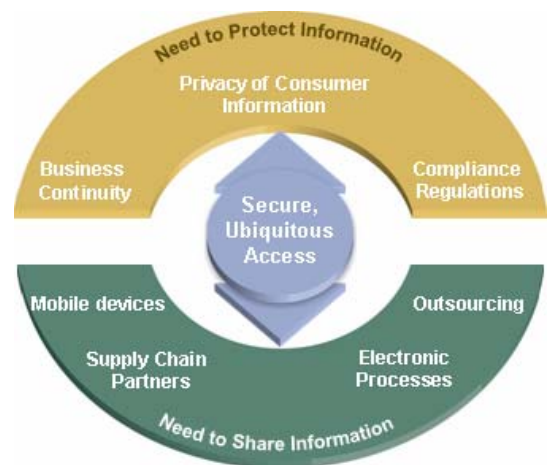

This is an opportunity to integrate our unique product to help customers become more secure, add value to your solutions and differentiate your offering. Our flagship product is a tamper-resistant, hardware PCI network interface card (NIC) that offers secure data transmission. Unlike software or other accelerator products, it offers true 100% SSL offload, freeing system resources for the primary business application that the server is performing. Now, SSL can be activated by default.

There is no longer a performance penalty to add security to any connection on any server, letting the application do what it was designed to do.

Leverage the Bristream Advantage for Data Privacy - Secure. Scalable. Simple.

Sign up today.

- We offer discounts providing competitive margins.
- We offer a cooperative, team-oriented, partnering model eliminating channel conflicts.
- We offer sales and technical training for this ever-changing, exciting area of security.
- We offer the opportunity to provide additional value to existing product and service offerings.

Sign-up today to be part of the Bristream partner team:

email: partners@bristream.com or visit <https://www.bristream.com/partners>